We understand the infinite number of logistical details that need to be taken into consideration when delivering a vessel and our extensive experience in the maritime industry has led to the development of carefully planned processes, giving our clients complete peace of mind and allowing us to become a world leader in our field.

“Logistics”

(The careful organisation of a complicated activity so that it happens in a successful and effective way)

-Cambridge Dictionary-

Most of the deliveries carried out by IMS have required special AMSA Form 421 Single Voyage Permits, due to the vessels not being built for open ocean voyages.

These vessels have all arrived on time and in perfect condition, ready to operate due to the experience of not only the IMS crew onboard, but also the logistics team who organise every minute detail of these contracts to ensure hassle free deliveries.
